MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT:

Brothers,

As we approach the holiday season, the board of directors and I wish you all a very merry Christmas and a happy new year.

I want to thank everyone for their support on all the TIAHA projects especially our newer members who jumped right in to help.

Our Christmas dinner was excellent as usual thanks to our chairmen Victor Cononi. Along with our joyful events, we also had several sad moments with the passing of two TIAHA members; Lou Baffaro and Nick Guarino. Please keep them in your prayers.

As you already know the board of directors elected to provide food and decorations for the Cary Retirement home Christmas party. The party was held on Dec 9th. I am sorry more of us did not attend but our vice president did an excellent job and reported that the party was a big success. The following letter from Fran Giannuzzi should make us feel proud of our organization.

Bob Vetrano, President TIAHA

Dear TIAHA Members,

It is with such pride and love that I extend my deepest thanks to everyone from TIAHA for their generous support to my Dad, Frank Palermo's Nursing Home - Cary Health and Rehab.

Your generosity filled the Dining Room and halls with much needed Christmas decorations and lights that have truly made a big difference in the Residents lives. When we lit the trees, their faces were all aglow and they clapped and cheered to see the colored lights that most of them have remembered from their past.

The Pizza Party that was funded by TIAHA on Sunday, December 9th was just incredible. Pizzas and cookies and so much to go around for Residents and Staff and Families that it warmed my heart just to see the smiles on the faces of all the Residents, as well as their families.

Larry Vellani, friend of some of the club members, came to sing from Mebane with 5 of their band members and they sang Italian Christmas songs that brought tears to my eyes remembering the days when my Dad was capable of singing all the Italian Christmas songs. Larry and his group, The Mebaniers, donated their time and music to the Nursing Home and the residents were singing and even playing some of the instruments that Larry brought along - their faces lit up the room and I was happy to have Vinnie Doria, Bob Giannuzzi and Joe Miracola from TIAHA all there to share in the celebration.

You can never know how much love and happiness you gave my Dad and all the other Residents this Holiday Season because of your love and generosity and I will always be thankful to each and every one of you.

In the true spirit of the Christmas Season, may you all be as blessed as you have blessed the lives of the Residents at Cary Health and Rehab Nursing Home.

My sincerest thanks and love to you all,

Fran Giannuzzi

Client Confusion

A FARMER went to see an attorney about getting a divorce, and the following discussion took place.

Attorney: "Well, do you have grounds?"

Farmer: "Yes, I have about 140 acres."

Attorney: "No, you dont understand. Do you have a case?"

Farmer: "No, but I have a John Deere."

Attorney: "You still dont understand. I mean, do you have a grudge?"

Farmer: "Yes, sir-thats where I keep my John Deere."

Attorney: "No, no! I mean do you have a suit?"

Farmer: "Yes, sir-I wear it to church every Sunday."

Attorney: "Well, does your wife beat you up?"

Farmer: "No, sir. We both get up at 4:30."

Attorney: "All right, all right. Let me put it this way. Why do you want a divorce?"

Farmer: "Well, I never have been able to have a meaningful conversation with that woman."

Luciano Pavarotti was the best-selling classical singer and humanitarian known for his most original and popular performances with the 'Three Tenors' and 'Pavarotti & Friends'.

He was born on October 12, 1935, in Modena, Emilia-Romagna, in Northern Italy. He was the first child and only son of two children in the family of a baker. His father, Fernando Pavarotti, was a gifted amateur tenor, who instilled a love for music and singing in young Luciano. His mother, Adele Venturi, worked at the local cigar factory. Young Pavarotti showed many talents. He first sang with his father in the Corale Rossi, a male choir in Modena, and won the first prize in an international choir competition in Wales, UK. He also played soccer as a goalkeeper for his town's junior team.

In 1954, at the age of 19, Pavarotti decided to make a career as a professional opera singer. He took serious study with professional tenor Arrio Pola, who discovered that Pavarotti had perfect pitch, and offered to teach him for free. After six years of studies, he had only a few performances in small towns without pay. At that time Pavarotti supported himself working as a part-time school teacher and later an insurance salesman. In 1961 he married his girlfriend, singer Adua Veroni, and the couple had three daughters.

Pavarotti made his operatic debut on April 29, 1961, as Rodolfo in La Boheme by Giacomo Puccini, at the opera house in Reggio Emilia. In the following years he relied on the professional advice from tenor Giuseppe Di Stefano, who prevented Pavarotti from appearances when his voice was not ready yet. Eventually Pavarotti stepped in for Di Stefano in 1963, at the Royal Opera House in London as 'Rodolfo' in La Boheme by Giacomo Puccini, making his international debut. That same year he met soprano Joan Sutherland and the two began one of the most legendary partnerships in vocal history; Pavarotti made his American debut opposite Sutherland in February of 1965, in Miami Opera.

Pavarotti was blessed with a voice of a rare range, beauty and clarity, which was best during the 60s, 70s and 80s. In 1966 he became the first opera tenor to hit all nine "high C's" with his full voice in the aria 'Quel destin' in 'La Fille du Regiment' (aka.. The Daughter of the Regiment) by Gaetano Donizetti. He repeated this feat in his legendary 1972 Met performance and was nicknamed "King of the High C's" in rave reviews. Pavarotti's popularity was arguably bigger than that of any other living tenor in the world. His 1993 live performance in the New York's Central Park was attended by 500,000 fans while millions watched it on television. During the 1990s and 2000s Pavarotti was still showing his ability to deliver his clear ringing tone in the higher register, albeit in fewer performances.

Luciano Pavarotti was known for his humanitarian work. He was the founder and the host of the 'Pavarotti & Friends' annual charity concerts and related activities in Modena, Italy. There he sang with international stars of all styles to raise funds for several worthy UN causes. Pavarotti sang with Bono and U2 in the 1995 song Miss Sarajevo and raised $1,500,000 in his charity project 'Concert for Bosnia'. He also established and financed the Pavarotti Music Center in Bosnia, and raised funds in charity concerts for refugees from Afghanistan and for refugees from Kosovo. Pavarotti made two Guinness World Records: one was for receiving the most curtain calls at 165; and the other was for the best selling classical album of 'The Three Tenors in Concert' with Plácido Domingo and Josep Carreras.

In March 2004 Pavarotti gave his last performance in an opera as the painter Mario Cavaradossi in Giacomo Puccini's 'Tosca' at the New York Metropolitan Opera. In 2005 Luciano Pavarotti started a 40 city farewell tour. He sang his signature aria 'Nessun Dorma' from 'Turandot' by Giacomo Puccini, at the 2006 Winter Olympics opening ceremony in Turin, Italy, on February 10, 2006. Pavarotti survived an emergency surgery for pancreatic cancer. His remaining appearances for 2006 have been canceled. However, his management anticipated that his farewell tour would resume in 2007.

Luciano Pavarotti died of kidney failure on September 6, 2007, at home in Modena, Italy, where he was surrounded by his family. He was laid to rest with his parents in the family tomb in Montale Rangone cemetery near Modena. His funeral ceremony in Modena was an international event attended by celebrities and over fifty thousand music lovers from all over the world.

It takes an Italian man...

It takes an Italian Man to make a Woman feel like a Woman...

On a recent transatlantic flight, a plane passes through a severe storm.

The turbulence is awful, and things go from bad to worse when one wing is struck by lightning. One woman in particular loses it.

Screaming, she stands up in the front of the plane. "I'm too young to die," she wails.

Then she yells, "Well, if I'm going to die, I want my last minutes on earth to be memorable! Is there ANYONE on this plane who can make me feel like a WOMAN?"

For a moment there is silence.. Everyone has forgotten their own peril. They all stared, riveted, at the desperate woman in the front of the plane.

Then an Italian man stands up in the rear of the plane. He is gorgeous : tall, well built, with dark brown hair and hazel eyes.

He starts to walk slowly up the aisle,unbuttoning his shirt.....one button at a time.

No one moves. ....

He removes his shirt. ....

Muscles ripple across his chest. ....

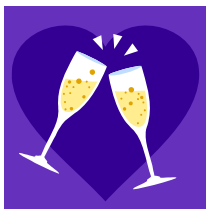

She gasps.....

He whispers: .....

"Iron this, and get me something to eat...."
